

Beginners Landscape Watercolour Painting Course

October & November Thursday evening course at Foxley Village Hall

The main objective is to provide a course for beginners, introducing them to the basic techniques of landscape watercolour painting and materials used.

The 8 week course is intended to be relaxed, enjoyable, productive and informative. It is restricted to eight students to provide more individual tuition. Students will be required to provide their own materials and equipment. Details of the timetable, materials required etc will be provided after booking. From past experience, early booking is advisable.
